Zip and the Booming Bouncing Sofa

"Tom just wants to flop onto the squishiest sofa in the house... but the sofa has other ideas. When one big sneeze sends everyone flying, the living room turns into the wildest bounce ride ever.

Tom and Pickles the cat have been playing the run-and-tumble game. They ran so fast that Pickles was fluffier than a cloud, and Tom was wobbly as jelly!

"PHEW!" Tom sighed, making a face like a melted ice cream cone. He stumbled right into the living room, with Pickles trotting close behind.

The room's main star was a giant, soft sofa, the color of a blueberry smoothie (a deep, squishy purple)—the perfect spot for a tired flop.

Tom didn't just sit. Tom did a big, heavy crash-land onto the thickest cushion. His face was a relaxed "ahhh..." of pure exhaustion.

The sofa did a funny little jump.
"Humph!" Pickles jumped onto the armrest, ready for a nap.

The sofa rumbled like a washing machine full of pebbles.

Then-
“AAAA-AAAA-CHOOO!”

WHOOSH! Tom was launched high into the air, spinning like a donut until—bonk—his head touched the ceiling.

Tom wasn't safe either—he flew off the sofa and landed head-first inside Zip's toy chest with a muffled "mmrrrrrow!"

Fling! Professor Pipsqueak the hamster and his tiny house sailed under the Christmas tree with a soft clunk!”

Tom landed back on the sofa giggling. "That was the BEST jumpy-whooshy ride EVER!"

Tom slapped the cushion like a button.
The sofa rumbled again. Tom grinned - ready.

“AAAA-CHOOOOO!!!” Tom did a backflip and caught a red sock stuck to a lamp.
Pickles landed upside-down on a beanbag.

The sofa sighed. "All better..."
Tom hugged it and whispered,
"Silly sofa. Now YOU need a nap."

When a blueberry-purple sofa sneezes, Tom and Pickles are launched into the wildest, wobbliest adventure ever!
Cushions fly, hamsters sail, and giggles bounce higher than ever.
